Grande Seconde and Tourbillon XXL : Neoclassical Sobriety

Founded by two friends, Pierre and Thomas, with a shared passion for Swiss watchmaking and old mechanical movements, the Pierre Thomas brand is known throughout the watchmaking sector for producing exceptional watches.

Passion and reason are the watchwords of these creators. They now produce watches with a refined sense of aesthetics, where the apparent simplicity reveals a neo-classical flair, and demonstrates completely mastered technique.

Their first creation was a generously-proportioned model. With a diameter of 49 mm, the case houses a 19-ligne mechanical movement produced in the workshops of Fontainemelon (CH) between 1870 and 1930.

The mechanisms are restored part by part, adjusted, bevelled and polished to bring them back to life in their most beautiful setting, such as the «Grande Seconde» pieces, and enriched with an original large tourbillon in the «Tourbillon XXL» pieces.

The watches are produced exclusively in precious metals - 18 ct. white and pink gold – and completed with a large-scale hand turned and domed alligator strap.

The models are available with white mother of pearl, black mother of pearl, red lacquered and chocolate lacquered dials, as well as an extraordinary version in meteorite enhanced by pink gold indexes.

These timepieces, each created individually and hand-finished in the purest spirit of Swiss artisanal watchmaking, combine noble materials, modern comfort, harmony of finishes and a balance between past and present.

The blend of hues and materials underlines their desire to respect tradition in their products, with the little added bonus that they are authentic 21st Century creations.

These 100% Swiss products are aimed at collectors and lovers of elegant pieces.
